

ETITO and industry – working together to upskill your workforce

AS THE INDUSTRY TRAINING ORGANISATION FOR THE SECURITY INDUSTRY, ETITO IS RECOGNISED BY INDUSTRY AND GOVERNMENT AS THE NATIONAL STANDARDS SETTING BODY. THIS ROLE SEES ETITO WORKING WITH INDUSTRY TO DEVELOP NATIONAL QUALIFICATIONS; DESIGN AND MANAGE TRAINING AND ASSESSMENT PROGRAMMES; AND PROVIDE COMPANIES WITH ACCESS TO GOVERNMENT TRAINING SUBSIDIES TO SUPPORT THE COST OF TRAINING.

To ensure the national training system meets the needs of the security industry ETITO works closely with industry representatives throughout the qualification development process. This industry consultation not only means you can be confident the qualifications reflect the national standard, you can be sure they're relevant and useful too.

Engage in national qualifications training and you won't be alone. ETITO provides a range of assessment tools along with the support of our staff to assist you throughout the training process. We have client relationship managers and learning and assessment consultants working every day with security companies helping them train their staff to the national standard. And behind the scenes there's research and qualification development teams working to review and revise unit standards and the qualifications so they remain valuable and fit-for-purpose.

Start training to the national standard and you'll see that in addition to increasing staff confidence and performance, it can provide a platform from which you can reinforce company policies and allow staff to increase their capability and core-skill group. As an employer, you can also benefit from improved customer relationships as your officers perform at a higher level, ultimately enhancing your company's reputation.
